

NIH PROPOSAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP

OVERVIEW

The ability to craft a compelling NIH proposal is crucial for success. This workshop is designed to provide you with information and feedback from professional experts to increase your chances of a successful grant submission. Attending this workshop promises not only a wealth of knowledge but also a unique and interactive learning experience. Don't miss out on this opportunity to enhance your skills, develop your ideas, connect with experts, and contribute to a collaborative community of research professionals.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

1- Interactive Q&A Session: Engage directly with NIH study section members during a dedicated Q&A session, get all your questions answered, and gain valuable insights and perspectives.

2- Tailored Small Group Conversations and Peer Learning: In the two-hour small group setting, participants have the chance to collaboratively refine grant concepts or delve deeper into crafting the specific aims page. Each attendee will have a dedicated 30-minute slot to share their ideas, receive input from both peers and experts, and actively engage in discussions. Moreover, participants are encouraged to provide constructive feedback to their fellow peers within the small group dynamic.

3- Networking Opportunities: Connect with like-minded professionals, researchers, and peers during the breaks and sessions.

4- Enhance Grant-Writing Skills: Learn tips, strategies, and best practices from both panelists and participants to develop your ideas.

5- Professional Development Opportunity: Attending this workshop is an investment in your professional development, where you can gain knowledge, skills, and connections that can contribute to your success in grant writing and proposal development.
