Symposium Overview

Our primary objective is to foster an environment of cross-disciplinary collaboration, creating opportunities for meaningful dialogue and potential research partnerships across our diverse specialty areas. This symposium represents a critical first step in building a comprehensive research ecosystem that bridges clinical insights with cutting-edge scientific investigation.

The day will culminate in a working luncheon focused on our planned resubmission of an R25 training grant designed to support students and pre-doctoral researchers across our interconnected fields.

Symposium Topics

- Oncology
- Olfaction
- Hearing
- Voice and Speech
- Allergy
- Bioengineering
